

HospitalOS

Hospital Operating System for Africa

End User License Agreement

Version 1.0 · Effective 1 August 2026 · AgoroX Africa

This End User License Agreement (“EULA”) governs an individual staff member's use of the HospitalOS platform under a sign-in account issued by their employing hospital (“Tenant”). It sits alongside, and does not replace, the Tenant Service Agreement between AgoroX and the Tenant itself.

Template notice. This is AgoroX's own template for the HospitalOS platform. It is not a substitute for review by qualified Nigerian legal counsel before it carries real contractual weight.

1. Who this applies to

Anyone signing in to HospitalOS with an individual staff account — clinical, diagnostic, pharmacy, finance, or administrative staff — issued by their hospital's own administrator.

2. License grant

Subject to this EULA, AgoroX grants each staff member a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable right to access and use HospitalOS solely for the purpose of performing their duties for the Tenant, for as long as their account remains active.

3. Account responsibilities

— Credentials are personal. Sharing a sign-in with another person, including a colleague, is not permitted — every action in HospitalOS is attributed to the account that performed it.

— A staff member must report a lost device or suspected unauthorised access to their hospital's administrator immediately.

— A staff member may only access patient data relevant to their role and duties, consistent with the permissions their role grants.

4. Acceptable use

HospitalOS may not be used to: circumvent or attempt to circumvent role-based access controls; extract patient data for a purpose outside the staff member's clinical or administrative duties; or introduce any code, script, or file intended to disrupt the platform's operation.

5. Ownership

HospitalOS, including its software, design, and documentation, remains the property of AgoroX Africa. This EULA grants a right to use the platform; it does not transfer any ownership in it. See the IP Policy for the fuller treatment of intellectual property.

6. Termination

A staff member's access ends when their hospital's administrator deactivates their account, or when the Tenant's own subscription ends. AgoroX may suspend an individual account for a genuine breach of this EULA, such as credential sharing or attempted unauthorised access, after notifying the Tenant's administrator.

7. No warranty beyond the Tenant Service Agreement

This EULA does not itself create service-level or support commitments — those are made to the Tenant under the Tenant Service Agreement. An individual staff member with an access issue should contact their own hospital administrator first.
