

HospitalOS

Hospital Operating System for Africa

Intellectual Property Policy

Version 1.0 · Effective 1 August 2026 · AgoroX Africa

This Intellectual Property Policy clarifies what AgoroX Africa owns, what a Tenant owns, and how each may be used — relevant to any hospital, staff member, or partner interacting with the HospitalOS platform.

Template notice. This is AgoroX's own template for the HospitalOS platform. It is not a substitute for review by qualified Nigerian legal counsel before it carries real contractual weight.

1. AgoroX's intellectual property

The HospitalOS software — including its source code, architecture, user interface design, the HospitalOS name and mark, and this and every other guide, template, and document distributed with the platform — is the intellectual property of AgoroX Africa (operating as part of Ipadeola Agoro Farms Limited). No Tenant, staff member, or third party acquires any ownership in it through use of the platform.

2. Tenant Data remains the Tenant's

AgoroX claims no ownership over Tenant Data — the patient records, clinical notes, financial records, and other information a hospital or its staff enter into HospitalOS. The Tenant owns this data outright; AgoroX processes it solely as described in the Privacy Policy and the Tenant Service Agreement, and a Tenant may request an export of its own data at any time.

3. Feedback and suggestions

If a Tenant or staff member suggests a feature, improvement, or change to HospitalOS, AgoroX may use that suggestion to improve the platform for every Tenant without owing compensation or attribution — the same standard practice used by most software platforms.

4. Third-party components

HospitalOS is built using open-source and licensed third-party software components, each under its own license terms. A list of major third-party components is available on request from support@agorox.africa.

5. Trademarks

“HospitalOS” and the HospitalOS mark are used by AgoroX Africa to identify the platform. A Tenant may reference “HospitalOS” factually (for example, in internal staff training materials) but may not use the HospitalOS name or mark to imply endorsement of the Tenant's own separate products or services without AgoroX's written consent.

6. Reporting a concern

If a Tenant or third party believes HospitalOS infringes their own intellectual property, or that their intellectual property has been misused on the platform, contact support@agorox.africa with enough detail to investigate — what the material is, where it appears, and the basis for the claim.
